SEEN, HEARD & TOLD BY THE EDITOR

We cannot but speak the things which we have seen and heard. Acts 4:20

A considerable number of citizens agree with me about trying to do away with the "5 counties in 1 county' set-up in Grenada County, but I, who am the daddy of the scheme, am advising to wait a little while longer, hoping that the supervisors will do something constructive on their own initiative. I just dont want to be any part of forcing them, as the people of Adams County are seeking to do.

If the supervisors will go along and see how Coahoma County operates, I can and will make arrangements with Mr. Moss, the main man there, so we (I will go along) can get a good insight into what that progressive county is doing. What do you say?

Everybody, including the supervisors themselves, knows how inequitable the set-up here, is. The supervisors should be eager to grasp any opportunity to do better for the county they are supposed to serve.

I would put a big piece in the paper about those three businessmen of Grenada swimming around in Enid Lake, or rather, wading away from their capsized boat, and would tell their names but for the probability the relating of the facts might affect our Christmas greeting ad business. If all come thru with an ad, the event is forgotten, or buried, anyway.

I am getting as bad about Enid Tom Meek is, tho I think I beat him this week. I think Tom missed going Wednesday, the cold, windy, cloudy day. However, I hear, he was just like a caged lion at home.

Prominent banker and financier, W. K. Huffington went to Memphis today (Thursday).

Thank God, the election is over, but the Vaughn firing is the talk of the town now.

Daves has got so many new members for the wildlife league that we ought to call it Daves Chapter of the Wildlife League.

The Wildlife League is just on the eve of acquiring a lease from the government of a lakeside site for its headquarters lodge.

A good many paid no attention to those blank papers they got on Oct. 1st. Guess I will have to send them a nice, formal statement of account. I want to play ball with all.

Fess Bailey has a good system, sell his boat to Charlie Dattel, then borrow it back.

One of old man J. M. Beckum's handsome boys who lives up in Kentucky somewhere came in the other day and brought me a sack of pure-d smoking tobacco and three dollars. I could use the latter. Thanks.

I really and truly felt good Tuesday afternoon when Mabel and I were down "home" at Oxberry, where Mabel made final settlement with my boyhood friend, Scott Davis, a colored man who has "lived with" us at least 50 years. Scott got quite a nice sum of money which he and his faithful wife, Mariah, earned by the sweats of their brows. With but little hired help, Scott and Mariah picked out about 11 bales of cotton, the biggest crop they ever made and I am just as proud as I can be that they got every penny that was "coming to them" am am proud to know that that's the Whitaker rule, and always has been the Whitaker rule in dealing with colored tenants.

"Miss" Eloise paid up and so did Cousin Evie Baker and Lacy Thomas of Cascilla brought in a good promise which we would not discount for $2.95.

In fact, with us, a good promise is almost as good as cash money, but we would like to have one or the other from some of you folks who are behind with your dues, but not Mrs. William Ames, who brought in cash money sady.

God help Mississippi as the Legislature is now in session.

—COTTON—

(By Mrs. W. W. W.)

Unless you go into the rural neighborhoods where cotton is being picked, and see for yourself the activity going on there you just can't vision the true spirit of cotton farming at gathering time.

This section has been blessed with the heaviest yield of cotton on record, many weeks have passed by and no rain has fallen to keep the pickers out of the field. A good price has been paid for picking, $3.00 per hundred pounds, and many field hands pick over 200 pounds a day. As you may know, it takes 1300 to 1500 lbs. of seed cotton to make a 500 lb. bale of lint cotton, so it costs for picking alone, between $39 to $45 a bale.

Raising cotton begins rights after Christmas when the stalks are cut. The land is then broken, bedded, fertilized and later in May, planted.

In June the crop is chopped out, cultivated, side dressed with fertilizer, the boll weevil poisoned, sometimes as often as six or seven times, and then picked.

A lot of tenants pick out their own crop, some planters buy and operate mechanical cotton pickers, but anyway you look at it, is is a costly operation.

To pick a hundred bale crop, the man who grows the crop and is responsible for the harvest, it costs him about $5000. This amount would soon pay for a mechanical picker, which would, with proper care, pick out 10 or 15 crops of cotton. Recently we overheard a young farmer say, "Mechanical cotton pickers will soon be a part of every cotton farmers equipment." If you havent seen a mechanical picker in operation, you should do so. Cotton picked by machine is not as clean as hand picked, but nothing can interfere with the staple. Eventually machine picked cotton can be cleaned in the gin, just as efficiently as hand picked cotton is cleaned.

A cotton tenant, furnished by the landlord, pays one-fourth of his cotton as rent. He also pays one-third of his corn as rent. The landlord furnishes him and his family a cash furnish each month also a house, rent free, to live in, pastures for stock, water, free wood and stands for such things as hospital bills, dental bills; if trouble occurs, often pays fines in Sheriff office or bails them out, often buys automobiles, radios, refrigerators, pays electric bills monthly and colects for all of these services once a year - right after he sells his cotton crop.

With all this consideration, there are critics of the South who think the Negro tenant isn't treated right. Of course they are honestly mistaken. The terms of renting cotton and corn lands to tenants was made right after the Civil War when the land was rich, taxes low, and labor plentiful. Now the land is worn out, needing as much as 700 lbs. of fertilizer to the acre, plus higher wages for chopping and picking. Then taxes were low, now all taxes, paid by land lord are higher. Yet the same deal for tenants is in effect. If they really wanted to, the could soon buy out the landlord under these conditions.

The upshot of this condition will result in more and more mechanical farming and less and less tenants on farms.

It is a very serious problem for the agricultural South!

Towns and cities of the South make their retail sales to the little men and women, to their children who are in schools, and when the farming lands drift into the hands of BIG farmers or BIG planters, who are able to do mechanical farming exclusively, the old fashioned farmer and tenants will have to move on to other fields of endeavor, possibly to towns and cities where unskilled labor is needed or to the North and oblivion.

The Southern landlord has begun to think about the burden he has carried for so long. He is now raising cattle, hogs, shepe. He is fencing in old cotton field and grazing cattle there.

There is something bewildering to tenants of the older crowd, as they see the new farming methods rolling in on tractors, cultivators and mechanical pickers. These things will put an end to the easy going living, and aggressive young folk will ride high, wide and handsomely through the cotton belt, leaving the patient plodder so far behind that he will be the butt of many a snide remark.

Cotton is a good cash crop, for the tenant who gets $150.00 out of a $200 bale of cotton, to the pickers who get about $40.00 a bale, and for the landlord who is able to pay his banker by Oct. 1 of each year.

We hope, for the sake of the South, we can keep our cotton tenants, even if they are a financial risk. The land is there, the good earth is aldays willing to yield a harvest for the benefit of mankind, and althongh we fret and fume somehow we find comfort in gazing across a field and loving it for what it is, for what it has given and for what it always will give to humble people.

HOME DEMONSTRATION CLUB ERECTS SIGN

Gore Springs Home Demonstration Club women had this "Welcome" sign erected by the side of State Highway 8 in Grenada County at the site of their small, but growing community.

Representing the club and telling Miss Olive Dowell (left), district extension home demonstration agent, of Stoneville, and Miss Bervil Elder (r[illegible] Grenada, how the 45 members planned for the sign are (from left) Mrs. Guy James, president, Mrs. J. L. Moore, secretary-treasurer, and Mrs. M. E. Phillips, 4-H advisor. The Gore Springs Club is the oldest in Grenada County and has as a project now the building of a roadside park along Highway 8.

BENTON KEETON NAMED DIST. LAMAR MANAGER

Will Move To Memphis To Assume Duties

Mr. and Mrs. Benton Keeton of this city are moving to Memphis where Mr. Keeton will assume the duties of District Manager of the Lamar Life Insurance Co. "This transfer into the position of management and increased responsibilities for Mr Keeton has been offered him as a result of his outstanding ledaership qualifications", said a spokesman for the company.

Mr. Keeton has established himself among the leading insurance men in Mississippi and on many occasions i his company, has led all other agents in volume of insurance placed in force. He has been named "Man of the Month" twice and "Man of the Year to Date" five times so far this year. His superior service to policy owners has earned free trips to Tower Isle, Jamaica and Mexico City for himself and his wife, Zay.

Mr. KKeeton received this transfer to Memphis to be District Manager of Lamar Life through his leadership qualifications, knowledge of the insurance business and sales ability. Mr. Keeton is a student of his profession preparing himself through constant study and experience. He is a graduate of the Institute of Insurance Marketing, Southern Methodist U. and a graduate of the Life Underwriters Training Course. At SMU he was secretary of his class.

In addition, he is the recipient of the National Quality Award. This award, which signifies quality underwriting to the insuring public, is issued by the National Association of Life Underwriters.

Mr. Keeton has earned the title All Star four times in four years. All Stars are the leading agents for the company he represents.

A resident of Grenada for 28 years, Mr. Keeton has left for Memphis to open his new offices which will be known as the Keeton Agency. His wife and two children will join him in a few days.

In leaving, Mr. Keeton expressed his appreciation to his many friends and business acquaintances in Grenada County for their patronage. He readily agrees that only through their aid and encouragement could he have received the many honors which have been his since entering the life insurance business.

Mr. Jack Butler and Miss Mary Elizabeth Legg of Memphis were Sunday guests of Mrs. G. W. Butler.

WILDLIFE LEAGUE HAS ALMOST RECORD CROWD

Squirrel Stew Slated For November 12

At its regular monthly meeting, held in the city auditorium Tuesday evening, Grenada County Wildlife League, with its president, J. H. Biddy, presiding, had what many thought to be a record turn-out.

It was announced that the signing of the lease with U. S. Engineers for a site for its club house on Grenada Lake was imminent.

George Criss, of the Forestry Service, showed two very interesting films depicting the value of protected forests and the dire consequence of neglect of ordinary precautions.

A squirrel stew for members and their guests, long planned, it was decided, will be held either at Club Lake or the city auditorium, weather to be considered, at 7 o'clock in the evening of next Thursday, that is November 12.

This organization is the fastest-growing one in this community, over 70 new members having been added in the past month.

Its main purpose, it seems, is to utilize to the fullest possible extent, the huge fishing and recreational facilitels inherent in the almost-completed Grenada Reservoir.

A site for the club house has been selected and, as indicated above, the final lease with the government may be but a matter of a few days.

Charlie Montgomery Dies At Age Of 107

Charlie Montgomery who was very popular with both white and Negro people of Grenada died at the fantastically old age of almost 108 on, Monday, Nov. 2, 1963 at his home on Union Street. He had been an invalid for two years.

He was born on Christmas Day in 1845 near Pontotoc. He spent his young manhood as a slave. In Pontotoc he owned a grocery store. He moved to Grenada 56 years ago and in this county, he bought and sold cattle and farmed. He was married several times, the last time to Rebecca Gilmer Montgomery who died in 1924. His last wife was a teacher.

He had six children, three of whom survive; William and Gilmer Montgomery and Lula Montzomery Riley all of Grenada. His oldest child, Maggie Franklin, died the past August at the age of 85. Another son, Jessie died six years ago. His son, William who operates a pressing shop lived with him.

McDonald Funeral Home of Greenwood had charge of funeral arrangements. The funeral will be held Sunday in Grenada at Vincent Chapel M. E. Church of which he was a member.

The biggest compliment we have received lately was being called the "gd-est menace in town" by one who, we know, was not trying to compliment us at all.

I think Jim Eastland is monkeying around trying to discourage any opposition in the next campaign which opens shortly.

Miss Mary Knox is recuperating at her home following a months illness.

Rapers Convert Army Building Into Beautiful Home

A deserted army post building 15 feet long, that once served as the communications center for the now defunct Camp McCain near Grenada, has had a face lifting. It is now the beautiful four bedroom, two bath home of the W. E. Raper family of Grenaad.

Tre remodeling, which off and on took nearly three years, was done almost entirely by the Raper family, consisting of Mr. Raper, who is a salesman, Mrs. Raper, who is a member of the Bogue Creet, Home Demonstration Club and 4-H Club members, Bill and Jane.

When we fist started the remodeling job my husband was operating a small grocery store in the community, Mrs. Raper said. One of us would stay and run the store and the other three of us worked on our new home.

When asked why they chose one of the Camp McCain buildings to remodel, she replied, 'With us it was a choice of buying 10 acres and building a small house or buying 80 acres with this and doing the work ourself. yes.

'We had a family conference on the problem and all decided that we wanted a big house. And here we are.

"I just dont know how many times we worked it out on paper, then erased what we had done and started over. My husband drew off the plans and the rest of us sat around and made suggestions. Finally we got our plans straight and went to work."

Bill and Mr. Raper did the plumbing and wiring. Plenty of electrical outlets in every room resulted from Mr. Raper's statement: "I don't want to ever see an extension cord in the house."

Mrs. Raper and Jane did the plastering of the walls and the paintine. All joined in to refloor the building.

The kitchen is a homemaker's dream come true with plenty of working surfaces, pantries and shelves galore, modern stove and refrigerator, and all wood surfaces finished in natural color.

This room suits Mrs. Raper to a T, as she was described as 'one of the best cooks in the world' by H. D. Agent Miss Bervil Elder of Grenada.

The floor of the kitchen is of inlaid linoleum that was salvaged from the pre-remodeled communications building.

The service entrance to the kitchen is through a utility room where laundry and sewing chores have priority. A large home freezer is located in the utility room and Mrs. Raper keeps this filled from her year-round home garden.

"We really live at home out here in the country", she said. "We raise nearly all our vegetables and meat. Too we have plenty of room to move around, and Bill doesnt have to worry about where to put his 4-H Club calves.

"I just wouldnt live in town on a bet."

Mrs. Raper and Jane combined talents to refinish and re-upholster lots of old furniutre.

"Although we did do most of the work ourselves, it cost us a lot of money to get our home like we wanted it," Mrs. Raper declared. We didnt have too much money so it meant that instead of all new furniture for our home, we had to re-do what we had."

A feature of each of the four bedrooms is plenty of storage space. Mr. and Mrs. Raper have in their room an entire wall devoted to shelves and hang-up space. The storage area is enclosed in sliding doors finished in natural wood.

Jane has a deep walk-in closet that is well lighted. Bill's closet besides having plenty of room for all his clothes and more in the hang-up area, is equipped with shelves to eliminate the need for a chest of drawers. It too is well lighted.

A cozy guest room completes the bedroom wing of the home.

Two main entrances one opening into a den or every day living room where emphasis is placed on comfort, and the other into a beautifully finished and furnished parlor, grace the Raper Home.

Future plans include a garage and an out-door living room with a lattice roof.

The enthusiastic Mrs. Raper declared, "We are not through yet by a long shot, but we are getting close enough to being finished that we can see the end. I used to say, if we finished, but now I say when we finish."

MRS. ESTELLE KING DIES AT HOME SATURDAY

Was Member Of Prominent Mississippi Family

Mrs. Estelle Doak King, a member of one of Mississippi's most prominent families, died at her home on Main Street in Grenada Saturday night, Oct. 31, 1963 after being ill several years.

She was born in Grenada to the late Mr. Robert Doak and the late Mrs. Pauline Gerard Doak. She attended Grenada College and MSCW. She lived in Memphis most of her married life where her husband was a successful businessman. She returned to live in Grenada about 10 years ago.

Mrs. King was a member of the Episcopal Church and of the Grenada, Iris Club. She gave permission to the local Iris Club to plant a beautiful collection of Iris on her property which greatly beautified that section of Grenada.

She was the mother of four children but one son, Robert, died at the age of 21 when a student at Baylor University.

She is survived by two sons, John S. King, Jr. of Memphis and Winfield King of Grenada, a brother, J. J. Doak of Grenada and three sisters, Misses Bobbie and Juliette Doak of Grenada and Mrs. J. P. Fisher of Jonestown, Miss., three grandchildren, Marian, Estelle and John S. King III, all of Memphis.

The funeral was held at 2:30 p. m. Monday at All Saints Episcopal Church with the rector, Rev. J. Marshall Frue officiating. Burial was in Odd Fellows Cemetery with Garner Brothers Funeral Home in charge.

Ross Barnett To Speak At Luncheon Nov. 11

Hon. Ross Barnett will be the speaker at the annual Civic Improvement League Luncheon at the Monte Cristo on November 11th.

Mr. Barnett has been an active member of the American Bar Ass'n committee on improvement in the Administration of Justice also as a practical farmer he is a member of the Nat. Agriculture Committee named by the American Bar Assn.

He will be introduced by Mr. John Rundle.

The public is invited to make reservations now at the Monte Cristo through Mrs. Cora Proudfit at phone 425.

KENWRIGHT'S COTTON BRINGS 44c PER POUND

Charlie Kenwright Sr. sold a 100 bales of long staple cotton to Maxwell Cotton Co. in Greenwood for 44c per pound the highest price paid this season.

This cotton is of the long staple variety and was grown near Payne in Tallahatchie County. It grew from a variety of Wilde's seed. Most cotton is bringing 34c and a little over per pound at present this year.

I was off fishing with Radio Wells and Henry Ray last Friday when Senator Jim Eastland spoke before a joint meeting of the Rotary and Lions clubs and therefore missed seeing Mississippi's senior United States Senator but Jim while visiting Mabel, then in the office, told her some tale about something I wrote in ridicule of some fellow (name forgotten) then running again for Jim and how much help Jim said it was in his cause. What the editor writes or in ridicule of whom, and what exactly just dont remember, and that's a fact. But I wrote Jim for details. But there is a lesson in that and the lesson is this: that folks remember a long time anything bad said, also something in their favor. I hope Jim answers my request for details. Usually a man remembers the bad things said longer than the good things.

Mrs. S. B. Caruthers and Mrs. E. B. Proudfit attended an afternoon party at the home of Mrs. C. M. Swango, Jr. in Sardis last Friday. The occasion being a courtesy honoring a recent bride Mrs. Crittendon Curry of Memphis.

Scripture: Acts 2:41-47; 5:42. Philippians 1:27-30; 2:12-18; I Peter 2:4-10; Revelation 3:7-22.
Devotional Reading: Psalm 122.

Church-Community

Lesson for November 8, 1953

EVERY Chamber of Commerce brags about the churches in its town, just as it brags about the parks, schools and museums. But sometimes the pride is for the wrong reason. Why should a community be proud of its churches and thankful for them? Why does every American community, with very few exceptions, feel itself not complete without at least one church? Not because they add to the beauty of the local scene, though many of them do. Not because they are inexpensive and democratic clubs, for a church which is no more than a club is not a true church.

Dr. Foreman

What Does A Church Do For A Community?

What a good church does for its community can never be fully told. There are three outstanding services which the church and only the church attempts to do in the most vital way. One is to produce better persons. To be sure, the schools and the hospitals and all sorts of organizations are working at the task of making better citizens, so perhaps are the juvenile courts and even the police courts. But the church, and only the church, is working at the job of making better citizens from inside out. Only the church confronts sinning men with the living God. Only the church introduces men to Christ. Only the church keeps alive the memory, and practices the living presence, of the Son of God.

Even the most pagan mayor would admit that his city or town would be better if all the citizens were Christians. Well, that is precisely what the church is trying to do. "present every man perfect in Christ" as St. Paul expressed it.

• • •

The Personal Gospel

Some churches talk much of the social gospel; others never do. But even the most individualistic kind of religion may turn out to be a social gospel—a good news for the community—after all. For one thing, the church and only the church, within any community, not only knows what a Christian home ought to be, but works at it.

If a church did nothing else whatever to solve the problems of its community, what it does in founding and supporting Christian homes brings rewards and dividends to the community that far outweigh anything the community can do for the church. The church keeps her eye always on persons; other elements in the community keep sharp eyes on profits, but in the long run people are more important than profits, even when it is only the church that sees it.

In a certain large city there is a residential area where the people have been badly affected by fumes from manufacturing plants about a mile away. In the many arguments over the trouble, the factories (and the Chamber of Commerce) are concerned mainly with the money problems involved in ridding the community of harmful fumes.

Learning To Be Neighbors

In the long run, it is the church that helps a community to be a community and not a collection of houses. It is the church that teaches her members to honor others more than themselves. It is the church that teaches a morality higher and deeper than any code of laws. It is the church that preaches and teaches and in part practices unselfish love as the law of life. It is the church that gives the most profound meaning to the word "neighbor" and indeed to "community" itself. A church which is in itself a true fellowship is going that far toward making the whole community a fellowship in fact and not only in name. Here, alas! we run into a miserable fact; that some churches are so far from Christian that they harm the community-spirit instead of building it up. In a small Delaware village some years ago a feud between two denominations reached the point where one locked the other out of the Thanksgiving service! That is an extreme; but any one who rides through the country and sees in a tiny village more churches than it can ever support or fill, cannot help wondering whether all these "holier-than-thou" societies are building or breaking a spirit of togetherness in that place.

In Memorian
E. R. (Eph) Smith

"His youth was innocent; his riper age
Marked with some act of goodness every day;
And watched by eyes that loved him, calm, and sage,
Faded his late declining years away.
Cheerful he gave his being up, and went
To share the holy rest that wait a life well spent."

WHEREAS, for four score and ten full years Eph Smith lived and breathed and walked abroad, without fear or hate for any man, nor was he hated or feared by any man; but loved and respected by all because there was blended within him all the higher and finer traits of mind and character that inspire love and respect in others, and

WHEREAS, Eph Smith, as was said of another of our deceased members was the embodiment of old-fashioned simplicity of faith, old-fashioned honesty, love of home, family and community, who believed in and observed the Golden Rule.

THEREFORE, be it resolved, that the John Rundle Bible Class of the Methodist Sunday School of Grenada deeply sympathizes and condoles with the members of our deceased brother's family, assuring them that we too have suffered a grievous loss in the passing of a member sincerely loved by all of us; a friend and brother sincere, honest, true, clean and humble, one whose spirit never grew old.

"Good night! good night! as we so oft have said
Beneath this roof at midnight in the days
That are no more, and shall no more return.
Thou hast but taken up thy lamp and gone to bed;
We stay a little longer, as one stays
To cover up the embers that still burn."

BE IT RESOLVED, Finally that these resolutions be sent to the home of our deceased brother and a copy be placed in the records of our class.

SEATED TEA

Another lovely courtesy given in honor of Mrs. Dawson Winter was a seated tea at the handsome home of Mrs. L. J. Doak on Friday afternoon of last week.

On Friday morning Miss Robbie Doak was hostess at a coffee at her home on South Street, complimenting the California visitor who shared her visit in Grenada to the Winter family with Mrs. L. J. Doak.

Mrs. Pete (Ruth Jennings) Sanders of Poplarville is visiting her mother, Mrs. W. J. Jennings at the home of her sister, Mrs. D. G. Ross, Sr.

BY TRIAL AND ERROR OR SCIENTIFIC FACT

Among ancient drugs in popular use were excreta of swine, powdered horn of deer, flyspecks, and toads. Although these were somewhat repulsive and of very doubtful value, great faith was placed in their curative powers. A review of the drugs in use today would disclose many similar animal products and tissues. Examples are pituitary extract, thyroid, liver, Insulin from the pancreas, and estrone from the urine of pregnant mares. When processed and dispensed for use, they have little resemblance to their original state. In medicine and pharmacy, trial and error is a thing of the past. The use of drugs is now in strict accordance with established scientific fact.

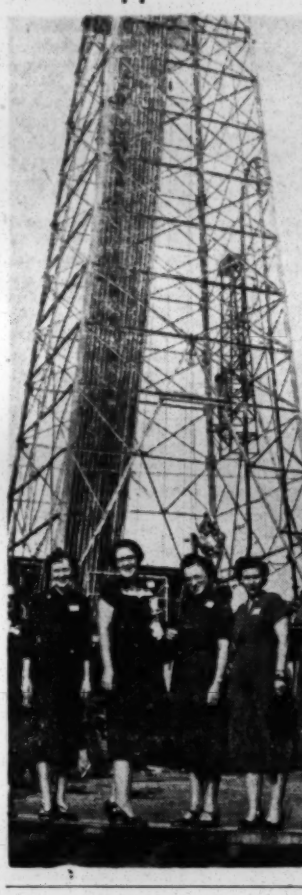
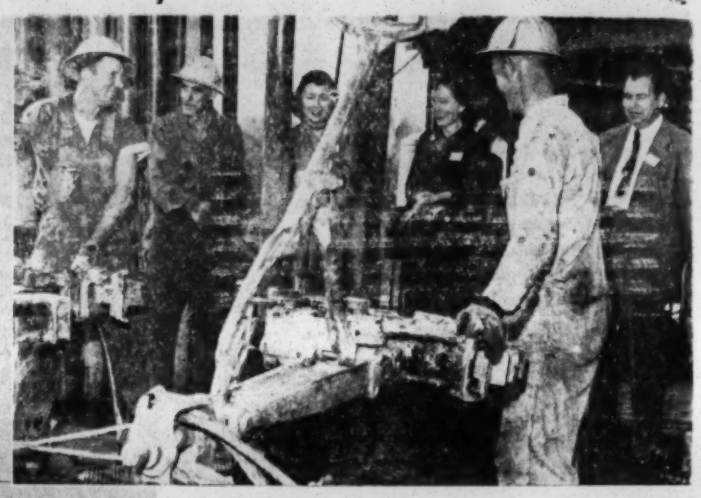
Mississippi Turn-About: Jones-County Teachers Learn About Oil Business





Fifteen teachers from Jones County public schools took a turn as guest "students" of the Gulf Refining Company's Zone 10 production office in Laurel as that city observed its third Business-Education Day October 23. Business firms and some 500 teachers participated in "B-E Day" under the sponsorship of Laurel's Chamber of Commerce. High point of the day for Gulf's guests was a field trip to the large drilling rig with which the company is seeking to confirm its discovery of Mississippi's deepest commercial oil production some 5000 feet below the gas producing sands of the seven-year-old Soso field. LEFT PHOTO: The rig towers 136 feet above the teachers and their host, Gulf's Zone 10 production superintendent W. W. Ramseur. ABOVE: Teachers Jean Loper, Berlon Mauldin and Fred Blackledge get a close look as "roughnecks"—members of the highly-skilled drilling crew—pull another 90-foot length of drill pipe out of the mile-deep hole in a bit-changing operation.

Pilot Club Members Dine At Monte Cristo

The Extension Committee of Pilots of Grenada, Mrs. Madge Angevin, Mrs. Nan McCormick and Mrs. Clara Criss, were hostesses Thursday night at the regular dinner meeting of the organization held at the Monte Cristo.

The main feature of the evening was initiation of 3 new members: Faye Parker, Virginia Hubbard, Margaret Oliver, Beatrice Beard and Mary Elizabeth Saunders.

The impressive Pilot International initiation service was conducted by the membership and classification committee, Mary Ella Collins, Edith Bell, Cornie Perry, assisted by Madge Angevin.

Table decorations were most attractive for the occasion. Autumn leaves were arranged through the center of the dining table and completing the decorative scheme was a large centerpiece of fall flowers in gold and bronze shades interspersed with bunches of grapes. This center floral piece also held the Pilot Wheel, symbol of Pilot International.

A turkey dinner was served after which Mrs. Ann Callaway, president, extended welcome to the new members and then conducted a brief business meeting.

A committee was named to honor the Grenada County draftee leaving Tuesday morning for induction into the armed forces. The club voted to present a gift to the young man as a part of his farewell.

Plans were furthered for the Pilot Bazaar and Fair evening, December 11 at the City Hall. Mrs. Edith Chambers, chairman, explained various phases of the project which is being held to secure funds for the organization's scholarship fund.

In connection with the pre-Christmas bazaar and fair, plans were announced for a Pet Parade at 4:30 p. m. Dec. 11 in the downtown area precednig the bazaar and fair that night. Prizes will be awarded winners in three classes: The most unusual pet; the prettiest pet, the cutest pet. Judges will be selected for the pet parade and entry blanks will be available next week. Those planning to parade with their pets are required to fill out an entry blank.

Handmade articles of crochet, embroidery, quilts, ets. will be among features of the bazaar. Homemade foods, candies, cakes, etc. will also be sold.

A "parcel post" sale of packages at the bazaar is being planned. The sale will be in charge of Virginia Hubbard.

CIVIC LEAGUE LUNCHEON

Town Talk

BY FED ROBINSON

We used to think there were three periods in a life the LEARNING period, the EARNING period and then the YEARNING period. But lately we have come to believe there may possibly be only two periods of life - the PAST and the FUTURE. Come to think of this seriously we know the PRESENT will soon be the PAST, we might as well not count it as a period at all. So perhaps the whole span of time could be described as the past and the future. It would be difficult to tell which of these two we worry the most about - the past or the future. Certainly a person who has not lived the good life, and has now come to realize it, will wish ever so earnestly they could just forget the past. "If only I could blot out all those things in the past," they will say, "I could make it all better in the future." Many people will worry and grieve about their past to the extent they ruin any chances for happiness in the future. Many will say - I'll turn over a new leaf, I'll make a new start, but no, that old past comes winging in upon their memories and reflections and plagues them.

Well, there may be more than two kinds of people but if we think of all those we have known we will find them falling in two groups. Those we like and those we don't like. Those we know to be good and those we know to be bad. There is a kind of person who will go to a school room with a cooked-up lie and take away a six year old boy in a kidnapping plot. The opposite of that person is another who would do anything to save that child from his cruel captors. One young man was angry at his mother and father because they objected to his marriage at 17 years of age and he took his rifle and killed both of his parents as they ran out of the hours. Another boy would have swum the Mississippi to reach his parents if they were in trouble. These things we read in the paper and we know they happen. Two kinds of people.

In old Palestine there are two seas. The River Jordan runs into one of them, and it in turn empties into the other one.

Their names are Galilee and Dead. The fresh water from the Jordan runs into the Sea of Galilee and the Galilee passes that flowing fresh water on and on into the Dead Sea, but there it stops. The Dead Sea keeps all it ca nreceive -- gives away nothing - keeps it. The result is the Sea of Galilee is filled with life of fish and other watery things and people gather on its shore for recreation for it is a pleasant place and a lovly place because of its nature to receive freely and to give freely which means life. But poor old selfish Dead Sea. He just gets all the water it can and hoards it up and will let never a trinkle go out. Result is there's not a sign of life in its waters or any where near it. People shun it. Birds will not even fly over it. The Dead Sea has everything it ever received, but what good is it - a smelly depth of stagnant water. Two kinds of sea can be a lot like two kinds of people. When people share their love, their affections and their possessions with others there seems to be more to come to refill their hearts and their pocketbooks. But those people who gather in all they can grasp and keep it for themselves cease to live, and cease to have any freshness of spirit and they become stale and sluggish and stagnated. Usually these miserly grasping people are inclined to hide themselves away from their fellowmen and doing that they become fearful and miserable.

Well, if I were a preacher I'd make up a sermon on these things and tell my congregation that only the Master can blot out a person's past, and only the Master can change the hearts of wicked men, and only when we pattern our lives after HIS will we want to GIVE and GROW instead of GRASP and GOUGE.

"The angels from their thrones on high . . . Look down on us with wondering eye . . . That where we are but passing guests . . . We build such strong and lasting nests . . . And where we hope to live for aye . . . We scarce take pains one stone to lay."

SEEN, HEARD & TOLD BY THE EDITOR

We cannot but speak the things which we have seen and heard. Acts 4:20

As far as I know, Paschal has no boy at all, but last week he was traipsing all over town collecting money for the Boy Scouts and that reminds me that a lotta men in Grenada, and a multitude elsewhere, who use much of their valuable time in doing such things for others - just unselfish citizens. In this respect, there are dozens right her in Grenada and hundreds of thousands scattered over the nation who perform unselfishly for less fortunate people, and with neither hope or expectancy of earthly reward.

Bro. DeCell of the Rolling Fork Pilot describes a baby as a tume with a loud noise at one end and a complete lack of responsibility at the other end.

J. Z. Pryor, the rich Cadillac farmer got back Sunday from Gulfport, Memphis or Jackson, wherever his fancy had taken him. Pete Embry, the other rich Cadillac farmer, just stayed at home nad rested.

Speaking of Pryor, I met for the first tmie sady his other charming daughter, Mrs. Doolittle, who has been getting the GCW a good while.

While down at the Ground Hog barber shop the other day I went in to check up on Tommie and Ruth Rose. Ruth was as pretty and as busy as usual but Tommie was in process of losing his teeth and that loss is going to be the best loss Tommie ever sustained

Fulton McRee at Holcomb says that a sign of cold weather is old folks and old mules kicking up their heels. Wonder what kind of sign it is that Oscar Geeslin and wife took their first plane trip to Midwest City, Oklahoma to visit their children.

I dont know whether Big Bill Mann married a rich wife, but that acumen is sometimes responsible for a man's prosperity.

In the above picture, Mrs. W. A. McCool, president, and Mrs. C. K. Bailey, Jr., corresponding secretary, both of Grenada, are shown completing final plans for the 14th annual board meeting of the National Association of Junior Auxiliaries which was held at the Heidelberg Hotel in Jackson Tuesday.

Other Grenada members who attended were: Mrs. Benton Keeton, delegate from Grenada and local vice president, also Mesdames Ed Penn, Rodney Defenbaugh, Ray Hopkins, Bill Hannan, Julian Lockett and Ira Parks.

MSCW STUDENTS MAKING MAJOR CONTRIBUTION TO THEIR STATE

Mississippi State College for Women at Columbus, the first state supported college for women in the nation, has in its nearly seventy-year history made many valuable contributions to the overall progress of the state.

Found d in 1884, the Industrial Institute and College, later MSCW, has instructed 23,000 students in the art of living and of making a living.

These students, according to a survey made in 1951-52, hold responsible positions in many localities right here in their own backyards. For instance, 48 per cent of the home demonstration agents and 51 per cent of the assistant agents in Mississippi are alumnae of MSCW.

More than 50 per cent, or 172, of the vocational homemaking teachers in approved high schools attended MSCW, 54 per cent of the state specialists in Cooperative Extension Work in home economics and agriculture, and three of the four-member supervisory staff for homemaking education in the state received their degrees from the beautiful college at Columbus.

Recently a bookmobile librarian nearing a crossroads in a rural section of the state spotted a farmer repairing his tractor at the end of a cotton row. Stopping, she asked: "Do you need a book on tractor repair?"

"No," responded the farmer, "but I could use a book on how to paint pictures."

The librarian reached into her traveling book dispensary and produced the requested edition. Many other books on the same subject were furnished the farmer in the weeks that followed. Today, he relaxes with his paintbrush and canvas at the end of his workday.

The service of the librarian, a graduate of MSCW, is just one small example of the numerous contributions being made by graduates of this state-supported institution.

The founders of MSCW pioneered in adding vocational, or industrial, subjects to the standard arts and sciences program.

Today, the college offers the standard ba helor of arts and bachelor of science degrees and eleven specialized degrees in the fields of art, music, secretarial science, education, physical education, library science and fine arts.

One department which is outstanding in preparing students in the art of living is that of home economics, which has awarded more than 1500 degrees since 1914. Hundreds of other students have selected the department for their minor or for elective courses.

It would be impossible to evaluate the contributions home economics alumnae have made toward raising the state's general cultural and economic standards. Among other things, such an evaluation would have to embrace the far-flung influence on the homes they have established and on the future homemakers they have taught.

Nutrition, harking back to the original course in cookery in 1885, has always been emphasized at MSCW. Now, with widening horizons for the trained nutritionist, the demand for graduates in that field always exceeds the number available.

In either dietetics or institution management, the nutrition major can find a wide choice of careers. The present community hospital plan in Mississippi is expected to increase opportunities for Mississippi trained dietitians to serve in their home state, instead of going to all sections of the country where they can now be found.

Public health education and district supervision of the school lunch program are but two of the services which MSCW trained nutritionists are rendering in the state today.

Because of the reticence of the true scientist, the department of bacteriology seldom is given the spotlight in any woman's college. Hence, the fact that 16 graduates of MSCW have studied medicine and become practicing physicians may come as a surprise. Only two of those ante-dated the creation of the department of bacteriology in 1907. The others have received their pre-medical schooling at MSCW, and some have gone into the study of medicine after experience as hospital laboratory technicians.

The demand for bacteriology majors always is greater than the supply, and again graduates have a choice of fields. Many of them serve a year's internship and become registered laboratory technicians. Some become medical artists, medical librarians or secretaries. Others go into research laboratories, and such industries as frozen food processing plants.

A milk testing laboratory is maintained in connection with the bacteriology department, as a service for the state board of health. Raw and processed milk for eight counties is checked through the laboratory, by a graduate of the department.

College placement bureau records for the past five years give further insight into the blending of careers and marriage by MSCW graduates. Many have become sucessful teachers, secretaries, chemists, and musicians. Others are engineering aides, journalists, commercial artists, social workers, radio announcers, and religious educators.

Yet placement records reveal also that one-third of the graduates are married the summer of their graduation, and more than 83 per cent are married after five years. Such statistics lend significance to the statement "educate a boy and you educate an individual, but educate a girl and you educate an entire family."

On MSCW's 40-acre plant are 13 academic buildings, 8 dormitories, dining hall and kitchen, infirmary, student union, faculty club, and three service buildings. Since July, 1952, an extensive program of basic repair, renovation and redecoration has been in progress.

Ten presidents have served the college since its founding. The tenth, Dr. Charles P. Hogarth, took office in 1952.

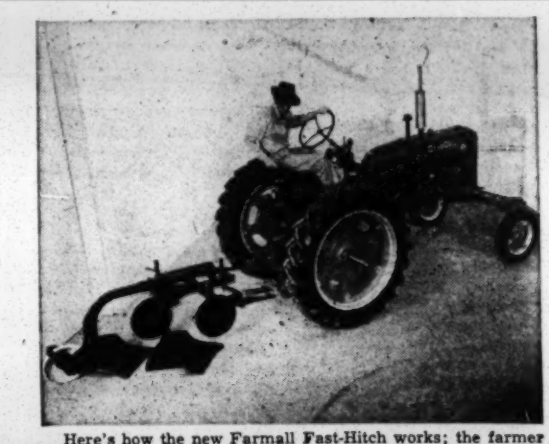
After assuming his duties, Dr. Hogarth took steps to integrate the college's social program with those of State College and Columbus Air Force Base. He also has emphasized citizenship training along with regular academic work.

Present enrollment is 843 college students and 302 sub-collegiate students. The college figure represents an overall increase of 13 per cent and a 46 per cent increase in new students over last year.

Such an increase is a definite indication MSCW will continue to grow, both in size and in service to the people of Mississippi.

A practice teacher and her pupil are shown in MSCW's Demonstration School, the first of its kind established in Mississippi.

MSCW also was the first college in the nation to build a house for use by students in home management. Here two students are shown returning from shopping for groceries. Each senior home economics student lives in one of the two home management houses for a period of nine weeks and assumes all the various responsibilities in running a home.



Here's how the new Farmall Fast-Hitch works; the farmer just backs up to the implement . . . the two coupling beams on the implement slip into the Fast-Hitch sockets on the tractor, and are locked instantly and automatically—to uncouple, just lift two latches. The farmer saves a great deal of time and all of the hard work usually required in hitching.

7½ Years—4½ Times as Many Rural Telephones in Mississippi

A FARM BOY is handed the receiver of a new rural telephone — a scene that has been repeated ever so many times during recent years as telephone people worked to extend service to the farming areas of our State.

In just 7½ years, the number of Southern Bell rural telephones in Mississippi has increased from 8,335 to more than 38,000. In other words, we now have 4½ times as many rural telephones as we had at the end of 1945.

We're continuing to push more lines into the State's rural areas every month. During the whole of 1953, we expect to spend over 2½ million dollars for rural construction; and the total number of additional rural telephones for the year will exceed 5,000.

And, as 1953 draws to a close, we're making plans for another big rural construction year in 1954.

You are hereby notified that a complaint in condemnation has been filed heretofore in the office of the clerk of the above-named court in an action to condemn the perpetual right, power, privilege, and easement to construct, operate, and maintain channel improvement works or other pertinent flood control structures on, over and across the lands described in Exhibit A attached hereto and made a part hereof for public use in connection with the construction, operation, and maintenance of the Yalobusha River Channel Improvement, Yazoo Headwater Project, Mississippi.

The authority for the taking is under and in accordance with the Act of Congress approved February 26, 1931 (46 Stat. 1421, 40 U.S.C., sec. 258a), which act authorized the filing of Declarations of Taking, and acts supplementary thereto and amendatory thereof; and under the further authority of Act of Congress approved May 15, 1928 (45 Stat. 536, Title 33, U.S.C., sec. 702a et seq.), as amended by act of June 15, 1936 (49 Stat. 1503, Title 33, U. S.C., sec. 702a-1, et seq.), and acts supplementary thereto and amendatory thereof, which acts authorized the acquisition of lands for flood control purposes; and act known as the "Civil Functions Appropriation Act, 1951", approved September 6, 1950 (Public Law 759 81st Congress - 2d Session), which act appropriated funds for such purposes.

You are further notified that if you have any objection or defense to the taking of your property, you are required to serve upon plaintiffs attorney at the address herein designated within twenty days after November 5, 1953, an answer identifying the property in which you claim to have an interest, stating the nature and extent of the interest claimed and stating all your objections and defenses to the taking of your property. A failure so to serve an answer shall constitute a consent to the taking and to the authority of the court to proceed to hear the action and to fix the just compensation and shall constitute a waiver of all defenses and objections not so presented.

You are further notified that if you have no objection or defense to the taking, you may serve upon plaintiff's attorney a notice of appearance designating the property in which you claim to be interested, and thereafter you shall receive notice of all proceedings affecting the said property.

You are further notified that at the trial of the issue of just compensation, whether or not you have answered or served a notice of appearance, you may present evidence as to the amount of the compensation to be paid for the property in which you have any interest and you may share in the distribution of the award of compensation.

Generating Station Near Completion

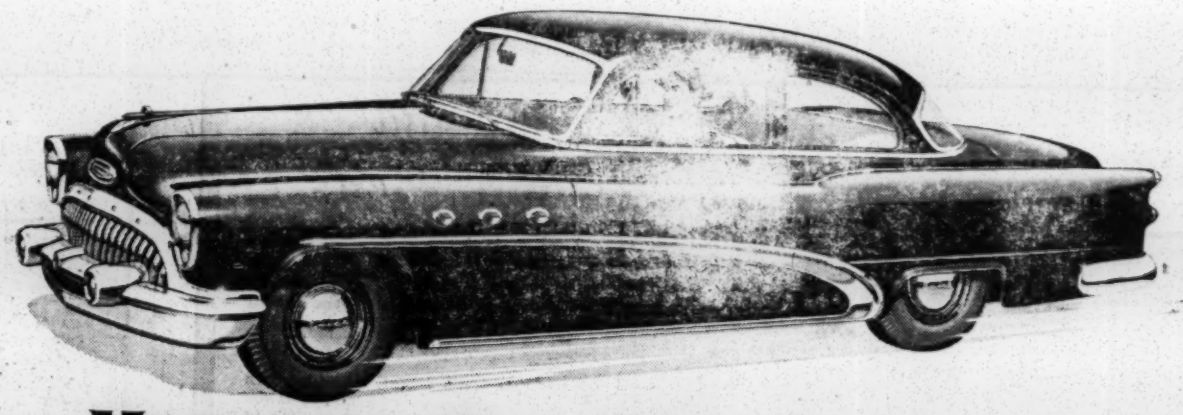
The fourth and last condenser (top picture), marking entry into final stages of construction, was placed in position this week at Mississippi Power & Light Company's Delta Steam Electric Station near Cleveland. Also nearing completion was the water treating plant (bottom picture), which will remove harmful chemicals from the water used for equipment cooling, evaporation fuel, boiler makeup, sanitary and drinking purposes. Behind the water treatment building can be seen the automobiles of nearly 650 workers engaged in the project, which under plans is expected to be generating electricity in November.



You're in the driver's seat for only $2340.88*

IT'S your money, of course—but we'd like to see you make the most of it.

That's why we publish the price of the big Buick SPECIAL here—to make Point #1: you can buy this great performer for just a few dollars more than the so-called "low-price three."

But Point #2—the smart point—is this:

When you put up those few extra dollars for the Buick pictured here, you're in the driver's seat of a lot more automobile.

You boss extra power — more satisfying power—walloping Buick Fireball 8 power —highest ever found in a Buick SPECIAL.

You get extra room—a lot more comfortable room — real, man-sized, 6-passenger room — as much room as you get in cars costing hundreds of dollars more.

You enjoy extra satisfaction — more solid satisfaction—in the ride of this big, broad, road-steady traveler that's cushioned by coil springs on all four wheels, and engineered with all the other costly features of the Million Dollar Ride.

And, speaking of extras — here you get, at no extra cost, a long list of standard equipment that most other cars at or near the price of this Buick charge you for, as "extras" on the bill of sale.

So, as we said—it's your money—and it's your move.

Finish Marine Training

Jewel W. Carpenter, Jr.

Joel H. Edwards, Jr.

Parris Island, S. C. — Among those promoted to Private First Class upon successful completion of 10 weeks of intensive training at this East Coast Marine Corps Recruit Depot were: Jewel W. Carpenter, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Carpenter of Grenada, and Joel H. Edwards, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Edwards of Grenada.

The job of transforming the recruits into Marines necessitates many hours of field training and classroom lectures. They learn such military arts as drill, physical fitness, discipline, field tactics, infantry weapons and law, by which they are governed while wearing the globe and anchor of the U. S. Marine Corps.

In addition to their training, the recruits are also given various aptitude tests to determine the type of duty for which they are best suited.

Dr. Jere Crook Dies In Nashville

Dr. Jere Lawrence Crook, Sr., nationally known Jackson, Tenn. surgeon, died at a Nashville Hospital Saturday night, Oct. 31, 1953.

He was co-founder of the Crook Sanitorium in Jackson, Tenn., surgeon for the Illinois Central Railroad and past President of the American Medical Association.

Among his survivors is his wife, Mrs. William Cooke Green Crook, sister of Mrs. Luck Duncan of Grenada. Mrs. Duncan went to Jackson Saturday. The funeral was held Monday afternoon.

Former Grenadian Wife Die In Virginia

Randolph Leigh, who spent most of his young manhood in Grenada and who later became a famed author and newspaper publisher, and also his wife died unexpectedly at his home in Langley, Va., near Alexandria.

They lived on a 45 acre estate in a fashionable area of Virginia. Mr. Leigh was born in Memphis but spent his childhood and youth in Grenada, moving from here in 1910. He is a nephew of Mrs. Weet Barksdale and of the late Mrs. Tol Thomas and of the late Roland Jones of Grenada. A first cousin in Grenada is Miss Elizabeth Jones. He was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Armstead Leigh.

He was a Phi Beta Kappa at Columbia U. where he was graduated and author of a number of books including Citadel of Freedom, The Constitution in 1787 and Today, and Forgotten Waters. He served in World War II as a Lt. Colonel.

Surviving are: two sons, Dr. Randolph Leigh, Jr. and Armstead Leigh, II.

Dr. ames Prose Joins College Of Surgeons

Dr. James C. Prose, son of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Prose of Grenada, has just returned to Knoxville, Tenn. after attending the meeting of the American College of Surgeons in Chicago, Ill.

On Friday evening, Oct. 9, Dr. Prose was initiated into membership in this outstanding organization.

Dr. Prose, who is now in private practice in Knoxville, Tenn., limits his practice to general surgery. He is also a member of the American Board of Surgery, Southeastern Surgical Congress, the Southern Medical Association and the Knoxville Surgical Society.

OLD FAMILIAR SCENES
(By Mrs. J. M. Bryant)

As we grow older, to me, it seems
We grow fonder of old familiar scenes.
The old home holds memories of our children in their carefree days;
Other memories just as precious of them in their grownup serious ways.
Seeing friends who have grown old with us, brings joy to our heart;
We cherish them more, knowing that soon we must part.
Reminders of our loved ones, who have gone to meet their God;
We like to recall things they did while on this earth they trod.
As we daydream, we have pleasant memories galore;
Memories we cherish and would like to keep forever more.
We are thankful for each old familiar scene,
Dear God, please keep our memory gardens green.

Aint they sweet.
